

STEPHEN A. CORCORAN MEMORIAL AWARD

Extended* Application Deadline: Thursday, April 17th, 2025 @ 4:30pm

Stephen A. Corcoran was born and raised in Vancouver. He was an athletic and artistic young man who enjoyed tennis, rugby, and sketching cartoons for his high school newspaper. He attended the Vancouver School of Art (now Emily Carr) in the early 1970's.

Stephen had a young family when, at the age of 28, he was diagnosed with Schizophrenia. Despite this challenge, he obtained a welding certificate and worked at a local saw mill. He also collected wood burls which he enjoyed polishing and shaping.

The stresses and stigma of mental illness overcame both his work and family life, and it was many years before art triumphed. He transferred his woodworking and welding techniques into using chalk pastels, giving them grain and structure. Stephen's playfully expressionistic mixed media artwork was insightful.

The Stephen A. Corcoran Memorial Award was created and funded by Stephen's family and friends to honour his creative and artistic legacy. It is also aimed at providing encouragement and removing financial barriers for Emily Carr students living with a significant and chronic mental health condition/disorder. This annual award has a value of $1,000.
